

TIME FLIGHT

It took artist Eric Shaw more than 2000 hours to complete this sculpture.

THREE TRAVELERS

This is one of the largest sculptures at Cedarhurst, consisting of three large steel pieces.

GRAY SQUIRREL

Squirrels don't dig up all of the nuts they bury which results in the start of more trees.

WRENCH WENCH

Make sure to look at this sculpture up close - it's made from recycled tires!

CHIMES

This artwork is interactive - and kid friendly! Try making some music once you find it!

RING TOSS

Artist Pat McDonald free-scaled the sculpture to weld the "ring" circles in place during installation.

VIK

The title Vik is a reference to the Vikings and the sculpture's curved top resembles the sail of a Viking ship pointing the way home.

SEEK & FIND
SCULPTURE PARK
ACTIVITY

SPONSORED BY

PINECONES

Pine cones can stay on the tree for more than 10 years before dropping to the ground.

FALLEN TREE

Downed trees provide shelter for small animals, serve as an animal food source, and fertilize the ground.

KIMBALL

This horse sculpture is named after a real-life horse!

VESSEL

The artwork was commissioned for our park after winning the 2008 Cedarhurst Sculpture Competition.

BIG BANG

This sculpture is made of redwood and weighs nine tons!

PERSIMMONS

Persimmons originated in China, are part of the berry family, and baked in cookies and breads.

ALFRED ATLAS

The boulder in the center is meant to represent the Earth. What do you think the artist is trying to say?